1 OVERVIEW

An activation key is essential for a user to correctly and effectively utilize the software tools provided by the company. This key validates that the software is being legally used by you and in compliance with the license agreement.

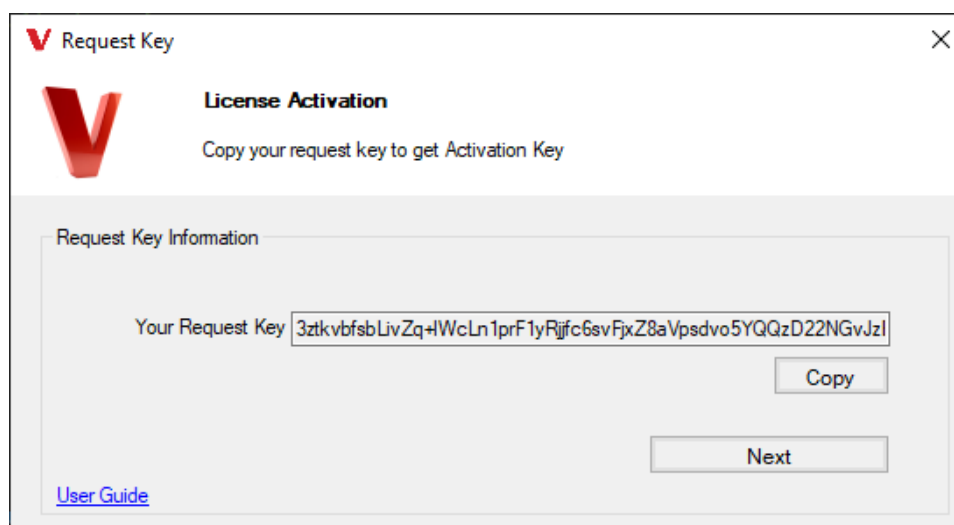

Without an activation key, the user doesn't have access to certain features of the software or may be completely unable to use the software. This serves to protect the software and prevent copyright infringements and unauthorized use.

Therefore, in order to fully and properly use the software, it is important that the user requests an activation key.

2 PROCESS

2.1 Copying The Request Key

- Begin by launching the program. Upon start-up, a "request key" will be displayed on your screen.
- This "request key" is crucial for you to request an activation key. It is unique to your instance of the software and provides a means to identify your software version and user details.
- Keep this key safe and accessible as it will be required in the activation key request process. Remember, without this request key, the request for an activation key cannot be processed.

Remember to protect your "request key" and treat it as confidential information. Do not share this key with unauthorized individuals as it is linked to your software license and misuse could lead to complications.

2.2 Request Activation Key

Start by going to the activation key request page on the software's website.

- Email Address:

Enter your valid email address in the corresponding field. This is where the activation key will be sent once your request is approved. Ensure that the email address you provide is correct to avoid any delays or complications.

- Request Key:

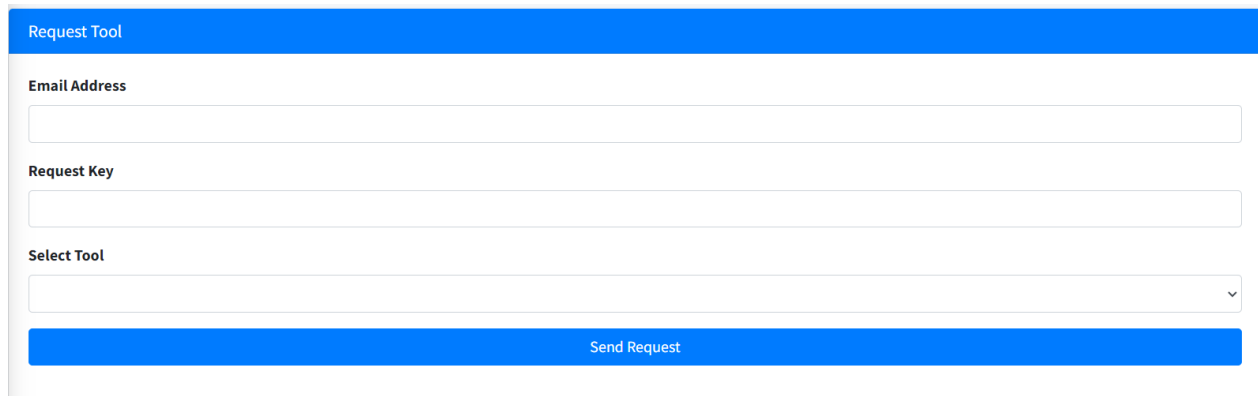

This is where user needs to enter the "request key" that was displayed when you initially launched the software. Copy the key accurately from the software and paste it in this field. Be careful to avoid any errors as the request key is unique and crucial for generating your activation key.

- Select Tool:

In this field, choose the specific software tool for which the user requests the activation key.

- Send Request:

After the user filled out all the necessary information, click on the "Send Request" button to submit your activation key request.
